

FLAGHOUSE CELEBRATES ITS 4TH YEAR AT SPECIAL OLYMPICS NJ

Hasbrouck Heights, NJ – June 29, 2009. FlagHouse Inc. of Hasbrouck Heights, NJ, recently joined the excitement at the “Summer Games” on June 13 and 14, held at The College of New Jersey in Ewing. A global supplier of resources for physical activity, recreation, education and special needs, FlagHouse has participated in the event for the past four years and is a Gold Medal Sponsor of Special Olympics New Jersey.

Over 30 FlagHouse employees gathered in Lions Stadium at the college to set up numerous games and activities in the area they sponsor called the Sports Park. Athletes gather at the Sports Park in between competitions to play, have fun, and enjoy each others company. Children and adults participated in bean bag tosses, skee ball, basketball, badminton, baseball, and more, as FlagHouse staff joined in the activities and passed out colorful playground balls to the delight of some very happy kids.

Diana Hohmann, Senior Brand Manager at FlagHouse, and a member of Special Olympics’ Young Athlete Advisory Board, remarked, “We’re proud to support Special Olympics New Jersey, as well as their Young Athlete Program. This event and program mirrors our mission to enhance the quality of life for people of all ages and abilities, it’s an honor to participate.”

The Young Athlete Program, created in consultation with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, was developed to meet the physical and developmental needs of children, ages 2 □ to 7, in the areas of physical activity and play, with an emphasis on sports skill development. The activities presented in the program are designed to develop the fundamental prerequisite skills to prepare athletes for future participation in sports. For more information, please contact Special Olympics New Jersey at (609) 896-8000.

Added Hohmann, “The opportunity to donate the field equipment for the Sports Park, and bikes for the bike workshop, is just a small piece of why we are involved. What we value the most is the chance to meet these special athletes and their families, to talk to them, and encourage their love of sports and physical activity. It’s those smiling faces that keep us coming back to Special Olympics New Jersey each year.”
